

PRIVACY POLICY AND COOKIES

Information about you

We do not gather any personal information about you when you visit this website. We only gather information about you if you chose to contact us. The information you provide when you contact us may include, but may not be restricted to:

- Your name
- Your address
- Your telephone number
- Your email address

If you wish to provide us with any information relating to a living person other than yourself, you should first obtain permission from that person to do so. You should also show the person concerned this Privacy Policy document.

How we use information you provide us with

When you provide us with your name and any other personal contact information such as address, telephone number and email address, we use that information solely to communicate with you.

We will not give, sell, rent or otherwise pass any information you have given us to any other person or organisation unless we believe that we are legally obliged to do so.

We delete or destroy any information you give us as soon as we believe that our correspondence with you has reached completion.

Cookies

We do not use cookies on this website.

For more information about Cookies visit [About Cookies.org](http://About Cookies.org)

Links

We provide links from this website to external websites which we believe may be of interest to our visitors. This service is provided as a free resource. Some, or all of the websites to which we have provided links may use Cookies to gather personal information about you. You should therefore check the Privacy and Cookie policies of each website you visit to see what information is gathered about you and how that information is used.

None of the external websites to which we link are connected to Coggeshall Museum and we therefore have no control over, nor accept liability for their content, their Privacy and Cookie policies, or their use of Cookies.
